“ Ed was a very giving person and generous to a fault, always putting others before himself....he loved his daughter and grandchildren who brought much joy in his life....Ed also loved singing gospel music and was very good on the bass guitar, playing drums and had a heartfelt gifted voice....my grandmother loved to hear us sing and we did for her many times....Ed will always be remembered for being able to make people laugh and I am happy that we shared music together and a child together, his only child Ashley.....Rest in peace
